Baldwin Resigns Premier's Post Death Of Red Leader Opens Political Row

MacDonald, Chief Of Labor Party, Accepts Post As Cabinet Head

Selection Is Made By Virtue Of Academic Knowledge Of Conditions

"GREY HEADED FIGHTER"
Appointment Of New Ministry Expected To Be Made Thursday

By Associated Press
London—Prime Minister Baldwin shortly before noon Tuesday tendered the resignation of his ministers to King George and advised the sovereign to send for James Ramsay MacDonald. The King accepted Mr. Baldwin's advice and summoned Mr. MacDonald, the Labor leader. Mr. MacDonald's audience with the king lasted an hour. The king invited him to form a government and Mr. MacDonald accepted.

James Ramsay MacDonald was selected by King George to form a cabinet by virtue of his position as head of the parliamentary Labor party which, by its numerical strength in the house of commons has been his majesty's official opposition.

The new premier is 57 years old and self educated. Although the leader of the labor party, he has never been a manual worker, having achieved his position by virtue of his academic knowledge of industrial affairs, gained through close study. As the son of a Scotch peasant, however, he early in life learned the privations of the average laborer's lot.

MacDonald seldom laughs and the set of his jaw bears out his characterization as "the grey-headed fighter." He had an active part in the organization of the Independent Labor party in 1893 when, but 27 years of age, and has since devoted himself to the Labor party's interests. From the beginning he championed the capital levy as the best means of solving England's industrial problems.

He has also been staunchly in favor of international peace, and publicly opposed England's entry into the World war. When the nation went to the fight, however, he made the best of the situation and served as an ambulance driver in France. He also supported the government as member of parliament in all the big war questions.

Like many other public men in England, one of his principal recreations is golf.

Mr. Baldwin, on the reassembling of the house of commons announced the government's resignation and the king's acceptance. There were no Labor cheers as the retiring premier made his statement. He moved the adjournment of parliament until Feb. 12, which date, he said, had been chosen to meet Mr. MacDonald's convenience.

Mr. Baldwin said the members of his cabinet would retain their seats until the new cabinet members were appointed.

The new prime minister has not announced when he will name his cabinet, but unofficially it is stated it will be Thursday.

Mr. MacDonald, it was stated Tuesday afternoon, will combine the foreign office with the premiership.

COOLIDGE HINDERS BIG SURTAX RAISE

By Associated Press
Washington—Indications were given at the White House Tuesday that President Coolidge would regard any surtax rate above 25 per cent as a violation of the fundamental principle of the Mellon tax bill and a basis for veto of any such bill.

Tax revision was delayed at Tuesday's cabinet meeting. It was not plain that Mr. Coolidge stood squarely behind the Mellon plan in its fundamental principles and would agree only to amendments designed to perfect it.

ALBION COLLEGE WAR IS ENDED WHEN LAIRD QITS

Detroit—Acceptance of the resignation of Dr. John W. Laird, president of Albion college, by the board of trustees of the school at a meeting here Monday night, apparently closed the controversy between the president and the students and members of the faculty of the college which culminated Friday in the boating, hunting and jeering of Dr. Laird when he attempted to conduct chapel exercises.

At a meeting of the trustees which was not open to the public, the resignation of Dr. Laird was shridi and the resignation of the president was considered accepted.

GREEN BAY—Fire on Monday destroyed a half a block of business houses here with a loss estimated at $50,000, partially covered by insurance.

Heroic work by the Spooner volunteer fire department kept the blaze from spreading to the residence section across the street.

The fire is believed to have started from a stove explosion in the H. C. Young electric shoe repair shop. It spread to the L. G. Isabelle grocery and the Midway garage and Bielor's feed store.

Fire fighters were hampered by lack of water due to frozen water mains and the breaking of a pump at the power house, and their efforts to confine the blaze to the shoe shop were futile. The heat caused an explosion of oil in the garage which further spread the flames.

The Maurice O'Rourke home also was destroyed.

Insurance covers the small loss to the bank, but the remainder of the building was not protected.

William Snafford, chauffeur for the fire chief, received a broken leg while inspecting the second floor of the burning building. No other was injured.

CHICAGO FACES NEW MILK WAR OUTBREAK

Chicago—Prospect of a repetition of the milk strike which was settled a week ago loomed Tuesday as producers prepared to lay their grievances before Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner, who twice successfully mediated in controversies between the farmers and dealers.

The producers contend that distributors are violating the agreement which settled the recent strike and are seeking to enforce 12 months' contracts for delivery of milk at prevailing prices.

Producers contend that the Bowman Dairy Co. one of the largest distributing companies, has posted notices within the 50 mile zone that no milk will be accepted from farmers unless they have signed a contract to deliver a specified quantity of milk at the price of $2.67 1/2 a hundred pounds agreed on recently for a three months period.

4 Millions In Property Off Tax List

Appleton has nearly $4,000,000 of non-taxable property according to statistics just compiled by A. C. Rule, city assessor, for the Wisconsin tax commission. The value of tax-exempt property, such as colleges, schools, churches, religious institutions, cemeteries, fraternal institutions, federal, state, county and city property, were assessed and taxed just like all other property, the assessed valuation of this tax-exempt property would amount to $3,929,125. The true value, as listed by the tax commission, probably would be $4,622,500.

The tax-exempt property is listed as follows: Lawrence college $683,375; schools, both public and parochial, $516,675; churches and religious institutions, $1,495,675; institutions of fraternal orders, $98,625; federal buildings, $62,400; state property (armory) $22,500; county property, $42,125; city buildings, parks, etc., $845,250.

Although the assessor has nothing to do with taxation, yet if he were assessing these properties for the purpose of taxation, the common council would be receiving a revenue of approximately $130,000 more a year at the present rate of taxation.

CHURCH MUST DROP PROVINCIAL IDEAS

Cities Need Different Ministry Than Villages, Dr. Holt Tells Hearers

Village ideas must be removed from city churches if they are to minister effectively to their worshippers, Dr. Arthur E. Holt of Boston declared in an address at the morning service of the First Congregational church Sunday. The small town trine of 200 years ago, the white church on the hill, the little red schoolhouse and the home, made America safe for democracy in those days, but the complexity and specialization of life today have made it necessary for pastors to build on the experiences of their own parishioners if the religion is to be one that will sustain them spiritually.

Dr. Holt came here to speak at the People's Forum Sunday evening. He is head of the social service department of the Congregational denomination with headquarters at Boston, and Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor, invited him to occupy the pulpit.

Churches must heed the doctrine of the pastor who said his church "walked like a business man," said Dr. Holt. This pastor meant that he gave study to the vices, virtues, problems and needs of those who constituted the membership, and that the ministry was designed to fit their situation. The ideas of the village sanctuary cannot accomplish this, he said. There are challenges to the members of 1924 to shape a church that will serve according to the life about it.

BIG PRODUCTION PLANNED FOR 1924 BY KOOLS COMPANY

Arthur Downer And Frank Kools Elected Directors At Stockholders' Meeting

Arthur Downer and Frank Kools were elected directors of Kools Manufacturing Co. at the annual meeting of stockholders Monday evening. Three incumbent members of the board, John Lappen, Edward Kools and William Kools were reelected. Attorney J. L. Johns withdrew as a member of the board.

The board met to elect officers and chose William Kools as president, Edward Kools as vice president, and Frank Kools as secretary-treasurer. Stockholders were well pleased with the reports of the business for the year 1923, which is the first the company has been in business. It manufactures potato peeling machines and is located in the former Reliance Motor Truck Co. plant.

Manufacture of the peeling machines will be increased considerably during the coming year. President William Kools announced, because of the addition of three models to the line already carried, one will be potato and vegetable peeler of a smaller variety than the others, for household use. Those previously manufactured largely were for hotels, restaurants or large eating places, but the demand for a home kitchen article will be met with the new one, and the sales are expected to be extensive.

ON THE SCREEN

NORMA TALMADGE IN PLAY OF
NEW YORK LIFE FROM BOW-
ERY TO MILIONAIRE'S

In "The Probation Wife," Norma Talmadge's picture, which can be seen Wednesday and Thursday at the New Bijou Theatre, Norma Talmadge again demonstrates that remarkable versatility in her roles for which she is rapidly becoming distinguished.

At the opening of the picture we see her as an inmate of the notorious cafe. She is young, vibrating with life, and with an inner refinement which makes this life repulsive to her—and Norma Talmadge is the girl who can make you feel all these things.

BRILLIANT DRAMA COMES TO THE SCREEN

Revealing the effect of the widely discussed rejuvenation, upon romance and life, with brilliant drama and rare beauty of dress and settings, Frank Lloyd's screen version of "Black Oxen," a First National picture, began a 3 days showing at the Bijou yesterday.

"Black Oxen" from the pen of Gertrude Atherton, because of its originality and modern atmosphere, has been the best selling novel of 1923, and Mr. Lloyd is said to have given it an elaborate pictorialization replete with surprising incidents, and enhanced by the visualization of characters, superbly described in the novel, but demanding real life to obtain proper appreciation.

Corinne Griffith and Conway Tearle share the featured parts in "Black Oxen," Miss Griffith playing the dual personalities of Mary Ogden, later Madame Zaltanny, and Mr. Tearle being cast as Lee Claverling, a cynical New York newspaper man who falls in love with the charming European head, American girl, Clara Bow, a newcomer to the screen essays the role of Janet Ogden, a flapperish young individual who adds considerable spice to the story by her actions; Kate Lester is seen as Jane Ogden, Harry Mestayer as James Ogden, Thomas Ricketts as Dil-widdle old time friend of Zaltanny; Thomas Guise as Judge Trent, Claire McDowell as Agnes Trevor, Clarissa Selwynne as Gora, Dwight, Lincoln Stedman as Donnie Perren, and Alan Hale as Prince Moritz von Hohenhauer.

DAYTIME WIVES

Presenting a splendidly witty drama of woman against woman for supremacy in love and business, "Daytime Wives," which is now being shown at the Majestic theatre, is a great, powerful drama of a woman's heart. It is a striking example of the power of a motion picture to combine love, humor with smashing melodramatic thrills.

With the unerring eye of one who has looked deep into a woman's heart, Director Emile Chautard has shown us three separate and distinct types of woman—each of which is a splendid, virile character study in itself. It shows the deep, selfish, self-sacrificing affection which an office girl had for her employer, contrasted with the selfish, self-satisfied feeling displayed by a rich man's wife with nothing to do in life but live a round of jazz-bubbles and saying sweet nothings with many words to other men. It unfolds a story of how an office girl unselfishly helped her employer to make a name for himself and gather in the dollars to hand over to an empty-headed baby doll flapper to spend on drinking, gambling and chasing male butterflies.

FOR FATHER'S COUGH

"Your HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND has done wonders for my father, who had an awful cough. He is feeling fine now," writes Nicolasa Gonzales, Cuero, Texas. Sold everywhere. adv.

Four Societies Join To Honor Birth Of C.E.

Union services in honor of the anniversary of the founding of Christian Endeavor will be held at 6:30 Sunday evening, Feb. 3, at Emmanuel Evangelical church, according to plans made by presidents of the Congregational, Presbyterian, Evangelical and Reformed C. E. societies at a meeting in First Congregational church Sunday afternoon.

Members of the Methodist Epworth leagues and the Baptist Young People's union will be invited to share the service. Full arrangements will be announced later.

The program will be prepared by the presidents acting as a committee, and it will be based on the "Challenge of Christ" challenge issued to societies recently by Dr. Francis B. Clark, founder and president of World Christian Endeavor.

Officers of the Lawrence college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and Dr. H. B. Peabody, the Rev. E. W. Wright and Prof. J. C. Lyman of the college met with the presidents. They had a lengthy discussion on the possibility of changing the hour of meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. so attendance would not conflict with that of various young people's societies. Prof. Lyman declared that this has been an issue for 15 years but has never been settled. The two college organizations promised more cooperation with the church societies.

1,070 STUDENTS IN HIGH SCHOOL

One thousand seventy students were enrolled at Appleton high school on Monday, the beginning of the second semester. This is 70 more than were registered on the first day of the first semester but the total enrollment of the first half year was 1,053. The increase is caused by the return of several former students to resume their studies.

ERECT WIRE CAGES FOR 1,000 BIRDS AT POULTRY SHOW

Combination Poultry, Grain And Corn Show Opens Wednesday Evening

Hundreds of wire cages were set up at the armory Tuesday for exhibits of the annual poultry show of Fox River Poultry & Pet Stock association which opens Wednesday and closes Sunday evening.

Wednesday is entry day and it is expected the birds from a distance will commence arriving by express Tuesday evening. Those from Appleton and Outagamie-co will be on exhibition not later than Wednesday afternoon. An extra number of wire cages has been provided.

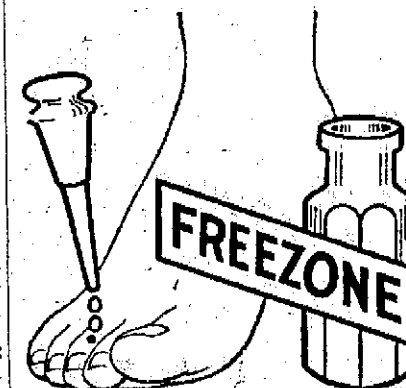

Up to noon Tuesday 750 entries had been received and the indications are the number of birds will exceed 1,000, the original number anticipated by the officers. With the state Barred Plymouth Rock association and the state Brown Leghorn association displaying their choicest birds in connection with those of Appleton and neighboring cities, officers are satisfied the show will be one of the best ever held in Wisconsin.

No less an attraction will be the corn and grain show which is arousing interest all over the county because of the valuable prizes offered. The exhibits will be displayed in the balcony.

J. N. Riley has returned to Chicago after a several days' visit with Appleton friends.

A CONTRAST IN FOREIGN POLICY

We are sending a small fleet of warships to Mexican waters to protect our citizens and interests there. The rebels are threatening to interfere with American commerce. It is a precautionary measure that is well taken, and that is in conformance with international practice. We are not sending our warships to support the existing government, to which we are nevertheless selling arms, but to keep the channels of trade open and to challenge what we consider unlawful blockade.

We endeavor to give protection to our commerce throughout the world. We send our goods to all nations, establish commercial and banking connections. Our nationals invest their capital in enterprises and undertakings in many lands. Our missionaries go to distant countries to advance christianity. To all of them we give the security that our power and prestige as a nation afford. We send our warships and our marines, if necessary, to the farthestmost parts of the world to safeguard all of these citizens and their lawful activities. This policy may at any time involve us in war; but we do not hesitate to assume the risk or the actuality.

There is no attempt to isolate ourselves from the other nations when our crusaders of commerce, capital, industry, philanthropy or religion venture abroad. Private enterprise and zeal will not permit us to live by ourselves. But when it is proposed to extend American cooperation to a distracted and warshocked continent like Europe, to help it to its feet and to assuage its misunderstandings and animosities, even though it is steadily but surely tending toward future wars and another conflagration from which we could not possibly hope to escape, we allow our politicians to confuse our minds and withhold our assistance.

It is a moral certainty that had America contributed her counsel and cooperation to the solution of the peace problems, conditions in Europe would be vastly better today. Germany in all probability would have been made solvent and would be paying reparations. The hatreds and mistakes of the Ruhr invasion would have been avoided. Greece might have kept her head and stuck to her Venizelos. The monstrous Lauzanne conference might have been escaped, and the unspeakable Turk kept where the treaty of Sevres put him. Inter-allied war debts would have been adjusted and in process of liquidation. Fewer seeds of future wars would have been planted.

This tremendous contribution to progress and peace could have been made by the United States without imperiling in the slightest degree its own safety. Its moral leadership would have been of incalculable value. Its prosperity and its virility would have been enhanced, and popular discontent, which has reflected itself from foreign shores to our own in a most disquieting manner, would have been greatly appeased. When will we come to realize that the peace and security of the world at large, with which we are in such intricate and intimate contact, are our own peace and security? The next generation will not, we think, be erecting monuments to those petty politicians whose noisy and vindictive acclaim have held us to a course of isolation in the making of peace.

THE AUTOMOBILE AND COSTS

A statistical summary of the various values possible to obtain today by the expenditure of a dollar as compared with ten years ago has been made by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. This chart shows an increase in value for both cars and tires, as opposed to a great decrease in value of such commodities as clothing, shoes, food, furniture, and house furnishings, building, crops, and live stock, and such intangibles as the cost of living and rents.

According to this summary, a dollar in 1913 purchased a dollar's worth of motor car; in 1923 it purchased $1.11 worth of motor car, whereas the dollar which bought a dollar's worth of food in 1913, today buys 68.5 cents worth of food.

A dollar's worth of tires in 1913 cost a dollar. For the same dollar in 1923 one buys $1.23 worth of tires, whereas the dollar, one spent for clothes in 1913 will buy today but 51.8 cents worth of suit or overcoat.

It is not a matter of argument that one of the great factors which have raised the relative value of motors per dollar expended, is the large increase in good highways. These have been a predetermined cause in the purchase of a large amount of motor vehicles, and it is quantity production which has lowered the cost or increased the value, as you please, of the 1913 "dollar unit" of value.

MONEY AND LIFE

Congress is enacting legislation to obviate profiteering in the next war. Gentlemen in manufacture and business, under the proposed act, would be taken into the army, with their plants, and they would work for the nation on the same financial basis as those who go to the front on land and sea. Such legislation is not superfluous. If we continue in the path we are traveling it will be a long time until war is prevented altogether.

If we do have another war, wealth and poverty must be on the same level, and the citizen who undergoes the severe hardships and takes the great hazards shall not be paid little, while the citizen who stays at home and runs his factory or his business accumulates a goodly fortune. The profiteering, honest and dishonest, which featured the great war was the prime cause of just dissatisfaction among the men who returned from the battlefields of Europe.

Most of us, it might appropriately be said all of us, have much the same idea as to the comparative value of life and property. We risk our health and lives in work and pleasure, or to save property, or to obtain wealth. Speed, advancement, business, take their toll of life. We pay but little attention to the deaths beside us. Progress takes its penalty, and in the main we hold progress to be material prosperity.

Henri La Fontaines, vice president of the Belgian senate, holds that the United States owes Europe money, instead of Europe owing money to the United States. He appraises every soldier from a financial standpoint. Every killed soldier he computes as representing 100,000 francs of capital and each mutilated soldier 50,000 francs.

There is less likelihood of another war with the same value placed on lives of men who do war work in factories, banks, stores and so on, as on the lives of the men who actually fight. Capital would not be able to acquire additional riches, but will lose money, and it would prefer peace.

Life and health are worth more than property, of course. When we think differently we have lost our bearings. Wealth can be buried in the grave, but no one has use for it there. Tutankhamen's gold is where his mourners and courtiers left it in the tomb.

THE AIR MAIL

No stunting's allowed in the Service,
Although we could stunt if we chose;
But our pilots' copper-lined nerve is
For other requirements than those
We fly when the tempests are blowing.
We buck through the fog or the hail;
Our stunt is to go—and keep going.
We're carrying Uncle Sam's mail!
At midday you'll hear our planes humming
And see them, perhaps, in the sky;
At midnight our motors are drumming
As steadily onward we fly.
We swoop over forest and mountain,
We swoop over river and vale,
We've got to be guys you can count on,
We're carrying Uncle Sam's mail!
Height records? We fret not about 'em.
Speed records? They're not in our line.
And yet we move swiftly without 'em
On schedule, rain, snow or shine.
The eagle and hawk fly behind us
Along our aerial trail;
Look up when we're due—you will find us,
We're carrying Uncle Sam's mail!

HOW HEARTS FAIL

By this time the faithful reader will begin to suspect that hearts don't fail unless there is something radically the matter with 'em. They don't.

When a heart is getting ready to fail the victim always has ample warning that there is something the matter. If, in spite of such warning signals, he prefers to stick to his almanac remedies, trying this and that for run down conditions, tired feeling, nervous strain and the like, why, its his funeral and he is entitled to conduct it in his own way. Only when the failure does become sufficient to interfere with the fellow's routine work on play or put him in bed, for truth's sake let him refrain from exclaiming that it is so sudden, for heart disease is practically always a matter of slow, insidious, gradual development; the heart failure goes hand in hand with the progress of the disease.

Just what are the warning signals of heart failure? I can't tell you. It is contrary to my hygienic principles to display symptoms. Anyhow, there are no pathognomonic signs of heart failure, though I do not mind mentioning a few conditions which at least make the state of the heart suspicious and warrant a proper physical examination:

1. Consciousness of a falling off in physical efficiency—the frank recognition that you are incapable of as much effort as you were able to put forth without discomfort last season.

2. If you find that you become easily fatigued when you try to read or write or otherwise make a mental effort for a short time.

3. An unusual feeling of being "done up" after some moderate physical or mental effort which you did not mind a year ago.

4. More marked short windedness or puffing when you walk up grade or climb the stairs than you used to experience when you were well.

5. Sensations of fluttering, throbbing, or of momentary pauses (skipping beats) in the region of the heart. The latter sensation is usually in reality an extra beat rather violent in character.

6. Restless sleep or sleep disturbed too much by dreams.

Remember that such symptoms by no means warrant the conclusion that there is anything the matter with the heart. They merely warrant a medical examination.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Note From An Anatomist.—Have taken pills which give temporary relief but no cure. Eleven teeth extracted which has pus sacs at the roots, and for about two years was much relieved, but now trouble starts all over again. What really causes the pain, nerves or the blood? Have avoided tomatoes and strawberries. Also do you believe in eating very little meat?—H. W. D.

Answer.—The inflammation causes the pain. Strawberries not so important, but as a rule patients with joint disease should eat tomatoes freely if they like them. Generous allowance of tomatoes in the diet tends to give a urine having a high solvent power for uric acid. If that is what is worrying you—not that uric acid has anything to do with arthritis. In the absence of special restriction of the diet by your physician, a fair amount of meat, both red and white, is generally advisable. There is no particular reason to think that diet or dieting is of much importance in relation to the causation or treatment of joint inflammation. The state of general metabolism is more important. From one remark in your letter which I have not quoted it would seem that when your thyroid gland apparatus has been physiologically more active you have found freedom from your joint trouble. That should suggest to your physician some promising lines of treatment.

Blood Won't Tell

I have taken a boy a year old with intentions of adopting him. His mother is of Irish descent and the baby's father was too. But he has several oriental features and I would not care to adopt him if he isn't of pure Caucasian blood. Would a blood test or any other test show that?—Mrs. P. B. P.

Answer.—No.

Galanized Ware.—I cooked in a galvanized pot some tomatoes and canned them. A neighbor is horrified and declares that it is dangerous to eat anything cooked in galvanized ware.—Mrs. R. D. J.

Answer.—I believe the Bureau of Chemistry, of the Agriculture Department at Washington issued a warning recently that there is some risk of unpleasant or untoward effects from mild zinc poisoning when food is cooked or kept in galvanized ware. (Copyright, National Newspaper Service.)

WEATHER ENTHUSIASTS.

Why, it was so cold—
1. I couldn't even get out under the cooler when I was insulted.
2. I had to be thawed out after Miss gave me the cold shoulder.
3. A lady gave me such an icy stare that I tripped and fell down on it.
4. I was frozen out after the first hand in poker.

G. W. who by the way is no relative of the famous Mrs. G. W. of this column, has ditched his old black standby hat for an "awfully becoming" grey cap. This is another sign that the weather is not as it should be.—Almire.

cold day.

When the telegraph operator's head begins to nod and his fingers begin to tremble, not so important, but as a rule patients with joint disease should eat tomatoes freely if they like them. Generous allowance of tomatoes in the diet tends to give a urine having a high solvent power for uric acid. If that is what is worrying you—not that uric acid has anything to do with arthritis.
In the absence of special restriction of the diet by your physician, a fair amount of meat, both red and white, is generally advisable.
There is no particular reason to think that diet or dieting is of much importance in relation to the causation or treatment of joint inflammation. The state of general metabolism is more important.
From one remark in your letter which I have not quoted it would seem that when your thyroid gland apparatus has been physiologically more active you have found freedom from your joint trouble. That should suggest to your physician some promising lines of treatment.

U. S. Pays Huge Bill Every Year For Diamonds

Washington, D. C.—As a nation, we Americans like to talk about our democratic simplicity, but actually, if given a chance, we eagerly proceed to shine with royal splendor. Since many of us have had a lot of war-made money to spend we are buying diamonds at a prodigious rate. Diamond necklaces and bracelets that would have delighted even the jaded eye of Lorenzo the Magnificent are casually worn by the wives and daughters of our industrial barons, while diamond rings and wrist watches lend a sparkle to the otherwise heavy atmosphere of our business offices.

It is this American passion for diamonds in fact, which but recently brought the diamond-producers of the world safely through a critical period of depression and placed them securely on their feet. And it is to the rapidly increasing demand for diamonds in this country that these same producers look for a busy and brilliant future.

So says Dr. George Frederick Kuntz, our leading gem expert, who has just issued another report showing our large diamond expenditures. In a little more than half a century this country has spent $2,000,000,000 for diamonds. In the five decades from 1867 to 1917, about $750,000,000 worth of diamonds were imported. During the five years that followed the importation of diamonds rose to $200,000,000 or to nearly one-third of the total amount that had been imported in the half-century before. In other words, our demand for diamonds has grown vociferous since the war.

But this $2,000,000,000 does not represent our total diamond bill. It simply covers the cost of the raw stones when they came into American ports. There are several other items on the bill besides—such as duties, sales tax, the cost of cutting and setting the stones, and by no means small profits of the sellers—which bring the total up to nearly double the original price of the stones.

The largest demand for diamonds occurred in this country in 1919, the year after the war, while the least demand was recorded in 1914, the year the war broke out. All during the war the diamond producers enjoyed enormous prosperity which reached its climax in 1919. Then abruptly the market suffered a terrific slump; the price of diamonds dropped, and some of the most important South African mines were forced to close down.

The cause of this depression is interesting to note—it was the sudden dumping on the market of vast quantities of diamonds by Russians and Germans. The diamond trade was aware, of course, that large deliveries of diamonds had been made to Germany and Russia just before and during the war, but the reason for such huge purchases was not fully clear until the war was over. Then it was surmised, according to Dr. Kuntz, that the aim had been "to stabilize the financial status of these countries, for diamonds offered a permanent security for investments against the inevitable breakage of the currency."

Read How Mrs. Walsh Was Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mannington, W. Virginia.—"I took the Vegetable Compound when having the turn of life. I had been sick for several years. I would get a little better, then I broke down again. It would be hard for me to describe how I was, for I was a perfect wreck. I suffered with a pain in my left side, then I would have numb spells, and I would think I couldn't live. I would have hot flashes, then would come weak spells. I was so weak I would think I couldn't ever get a meal ready. My work was a burden to me. I was not able to do my housework half of the time. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has given me strength and health. The hot flashes left me and I got better of the numb spells. That summer I could do my housework and worked in the garden a good bit. I tell all sick women what your wonderful medicine did for me, and will always recommend it. I am known to all my neighbors, and you can publish this statement because it is true."

REUTER SUGGESTS WAY FOR RAISING FUNDS FOR HUNGRY

Subscription Lists In Stores And Factories, County Chairman Says

Industrial plants, stores and places where people congregate can help the German relief fund drive if they will avail themselves of a plan suggested by Mayor Henry Reuter, chairman of the county campaign committee.

"Places like these can circulate a subscription list and raise considerable money," said Mayor Reuter. "I know of one instance where this was done and $22 was obtained in record time. Everybody ought to help the cause of these Germans who are cold and starving because of the awful situation in their country. I suggest that collections be taken everywhere and the money turned in at any bank."

Some towns of Outagamie co and vicinity already have made worthy gifts to state headquarters, according to reports compiled in the office of Judge A. C. Backus, Milwaukee, Wisconsin chairman. Some of the receipts are: Bear Creek $205, Birmahood $63, Black Creek $15, Clintonville $583, Kimbaras $156, Hortonville $15, Kimberly $1, New London $273, Shawano $2100. Some of these places, particularly Black Creek and Hortonville, have raised larger amounts than reported, but the money has not been remitted to state headquarters. Appleton has not sent anything to the state office as yet.

Cold weather is believed to have prevented many in the country from going to the banks to deposit their gifts, but the committee believes this wintery condition ought to remind everybody that thousands in Germany have little protection because they can't buy fuel for warmth and food enough to make their bodies resist disease. It is not necessary to go to the banks personally. Checks or currency may be mailed to any bank in county and they will be credited properly, and receipt issued.

The campaign closes Feb. 4 but gifts should be made before then.

FOSTER PIG CLUBS IN COUNTY SCHOOLS

County School Heads And Farm Agent Cooperate To Stimulate Interest

Boys and girls clubwork will receive special attention on the 1924 agricultural program of this county, as outlined by the county agricultural committee.

Organization of pig clubs will be fostered by Robert A. Amundsen, county agent, with the cooperation of A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, and A. L. Collar and Miss Nellie McDermott, supervising teachers.

Every boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 15 years attending rural schools will have an opportunity of becoming a member of a pig club. Local groups will be organized which in turn will send delegates to the district or town meetings. The workings of the clubs will be similar to those of farm organizations.

BUY YOUNG PIG

Each member of a club is to buy a young pig in spring, not necessarily of pure breed, either from the home farm or through the club, give a note to the local bank for it and pay for the pig with the borrowed money.

The project is an educational one, as it teaches farming, business and banking. The pig is to be fed and

Peace Plan Ballot

FOLLOWING is the ballot through which citizens are asked to express their approval or disapproval of the Bok peace plan. Stripped of details, it seems to propose that America enter the world court and cooperate with the League of Nations as a non-member nation, its representatives for that purpose lacking authority to bind the United States without act of congress. The Appleton Post-Crescent invites, in addition, to the balloting, the fullest discussion of the plan as a good means of stimulating interest in relation to the world's greatest problem. What do YOU say?

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

Proposes:
1. That the United States shall immediately enter the Permanent Court of International Justice, under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.

2. That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States shall offer to extend its present cooperation with the League and participate in the work of the League as a body of mutual counsel under conditions which

1. Substitute moral force and public opinion for the military and economic force originally implied in Article X and XVI.
2. Safeguard the Monroe Doctrine.
3. Accept the fact that the United States will assume no obligations under the Treaty of Versailles except by Act of Congress.
4. Propose that membership in the League should be opened to all nations.
5. Provide for the continuing development of international law.

E. Ellingwood, bureau director.

The first issue will appear in about a month and will contain a digest of statistical and research information obtained from various agencies throughout the country. cared for by the club member during the summer and accurate records are to be kept of the feed costs in books furnished by the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

In the fall when the pigs are ready for market, the clubs will ship their pigs cooperatively with other clubs in the county and with the assistance of a local shipping manager. The returns will be handled by each local club, the same as the shipping associations are now doing. When the returns are made, the notes must be paid and any profit will belong to the individual club members.

PASSENGERS DELAYED 8 HOURS BY FREIGHT WRECK

The southbound morning train on the Wisconsin division of the North-western road due about 2 o'clock was more than eight hours late Sunday morning because of a freight wreck a few miles north of Menominee, Mich., which blockaded the track. Eighteen cars were reported derailed and the track was torn up for some distance.

William Vaughn of Channing, Mich., formerly of Appleton, was a passenger on the train. He said it had nearly reached Menominee when it was ordered back to Power Junction, where it was transferred to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul track and made the trip over that road as far as Marinette.

The return caused a great deal of inconvenience to a group of school teachers who attended a convention at Hermanville. Many of them were compelled to remain over until the following day.

In view of this situation, the only way in which you can be sure of obtaining delivery of a Ford Car, Truck or Tractor this coming spring or summer, is to place your order immediately.

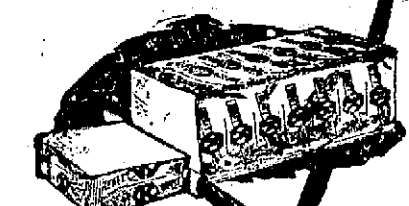

If you do not wish to pay cash for your car, you can arrange for a small payment down and easy terms on the balance. Or you can buy on the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

Your loved ones have come to depend on your foresight to insure their future happiness when you are no longer here to guide them. Provide for their future by making your Will now. It is the only way you can be sure of a continuation of your sympathetic understanding and provide for the intimate, personal relationships, preferences and responsibilities you know so well. LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT. CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER (CONTINUED)

Ruth raised her eyes to mine after she had read that poem. Dear Little Marquise, and I thought "I am looking into wells of sorrow" deeper and darker than I have ever seen before.

"I had only been married a year, Leslie," she said, "when someone came to me and told me of Harry's escapade with a young woman in the chorus of one of the musical comedies. It was then I found that bit of verse I have just read to you and something went out of me, dear, something went out of my love that was of greater importance to Harry than it was to me."

"I do not know that he has ever missed it, but from that time he has never had the devoted loyalty and utter adoration which I gave him before. I still cling, however, to the feeling that men did not regard the Seventh Commandment as binding upon them, but I knew that every man held in great reverence the Eighth. I said to myself, 'My husband is an honorable man as men define honor.'"

"The Eighth," said Ruth, "is 'Thou shalt not steal.'"

"Oh Ruth," I exclaimed in horror, "surely you don't mean—"

"Oh, I don't mean that Harry deliberately picks his friends' pockets or goes into their houses and holds them up at the end of a gun, but I have heard him boast of putting over practices with even his dearest friends that meant nothing more than stealing their money."

"What would you do, Leslie, if you were married to a man whom you didn't love any more; whom you didn't even respect; whose presence made you grow cold all about your heart? What would you do, dear?"

"I wouldn't live with him a minute," I said impulsively.

"I wonder," Ruth said musingly, "Harry would not give me one cent if I should try to divorce him and I do not believe I could earn my own living. My parents are both dead and I have no money. I am a coward. I'm ashamed to confess it, but I'm a coward. Even when there is a door open to me I am a coward."

"What do you mean Ruth?"

"I mean—have you never guessed?"

"You are not in love with Walter Burke, are you?"

"That's just it, Leslie. I don't know. I am afraid that I am so unhappy with Harry that I am all ready to do anything to get away from him. But if ever the time comes when I am sure that I love Walter, I shall go to him. Why should I give up my chance of happiness for the sake of public opinion?"

Adventures Of The Twins

Reddy Razor Back's Troubles

"Barber, barber, shave a pig. How many hairs to make a wig? Four and twenty, that's enough! Give the barber a pinch of snuff."

Nancy and Nick looked to see who was singing, and you may imagine their surprise when a thin little red pig turned the corner.

"Hello!" he grunted when he saw them. "When did you come to Dixie Land?"

"Yesterday," answered Nick. "When did you come?"

"About six months ago," said the little pig. "I was born here."

"My goodness!" exclaimed Nancy. "You aren't very big. You look thin! Have you been sick?"

"No, sir, I haven't," declared the little red pig indignantly. "Never felt better in my life! It's my nature to be thin. I'm called Reddy Razor Back. Because my backbone sticks up like a razor, I suppose. Aren't all pigs like me?"

"I should say not!" said Nick. The pigs in Squeaky-Land are as fat as butter. They're so fat they look like sausages!"

The little red pig shuddered. "Ugh!" he squealed. "Don't say that word, please. Bacon and wieners and ham and pork are likewise never mentioned in polite pig society in Dixie Land!"

"I shouldn't think you would need to worry," spoke up Nancy. "You're too thin to—"

"You may as well say it," sighed the little pig. "I know what you mean. I'm too thin for the butcher to bother with when you were going to say, 'That's just the trouble! I'm not. Down here in Dixie Land they say, 'The nearer the bone the sweeter the meat,' and my meat's all pritty near to my bones. I try as hard as I can to get fat so my meat will be farther away from my bones, and therefore not so sweet, but it does seem that the more I eat the thinner I get. Oh, me! Oh, me! I'm thinking of going on a journey."

"What would you do and where would you go?" asked Nick.

"I was thinking of turning into a barber," answered Reddy Razor

Back. "I saw that verse I was singing about barbers in a book that the children had. Or I might go to market! I saw where one pig had done that. It was in the same book that the barber was. I also noticed that a pig called Hickory Dickory Dare flew up in the air. He must have been a razor back like me or he never could have done it. Besides razor backs are fond of hickory nuts."

"Listen to me, Piggy," said Nick, patting him kindly. "If I were you, I'd stay right at home. And I shouldn't worry one bit. That's what Nancy and I came for—to help the Dixie Landers out of their troubles. I'll send word to the Fairy Queen and she'll save you."

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS

NUMBER 19

Deductions for taxes form a considerable item in the returns of many taxpayers. Such items include taxes on personal property and real estate, whether business or residential. Taxes assessed against local benefits, such as street paving or drainage, which tend to increase the value of the property assessed, are not deductible, since they are the cost of a permanent improvement.

The Federal income tax may not be deducted. Other Federal taxes, however, are deductible, for example, the special tax of oleomargarine dealers, proprietors of theaters, pool rooms, bowling alleys, customhouse brokers, and stockbrokers. Customs duties paid by a person on articles which he imports for his own use are deductible. Sales taxes paid by manufacturers of automobiles, candy, pleasure boats, works of art, carpets, trunks, jewelry, etc., may not be deducted by such manufacturers, unless included in gross income for the year. A purchaser of such articles can not deduct the taxes as they are levied against the manufacturer and not the purchaser.

Automobile license fees are regarded as taxes, and the amount thereof may be deducted. Admission taxes are deductible but the taxpayer must show that account has been kept of the amount paid during the year. Mere guesswork will not be accepted.

DR. ROUSE SURE OF ROUSING RECEPTION

Former Pastor Of Congregational Church Comes Here For Lecture On Friday

Eight years was spent here as pastor by the Rev. Frederick T. Rouse of Worcester, Mass., who is to give an illustrated lecture at 7:30 Friday evening in First Congregational church on "The Great Northwest." Arrangements are in charge of the Christian Endeavor society.

The Rev. Mr. Rouse served as Congregational minister from 1899 to 1907 in the interim between two pastors of the Rev. John Paville. He went from here to the leading church of Omaha, Neb.

So much has been said about the speaking ability of the visitor that many persons are planning to hear him. He is brilliant, epigrammatic and full of humor, according to those who remember him while in Appleton. He was greatly admired as a minister and speaker.

Worcester now is the residence of the Rev. Mr. Rouse, where he is pastor of a large Congregational church. He is coming west to attend a Congregational convention in Chicago and made his plans so he could come here to give his famous lecture on the northwest and to visit his friends. He speaks largely from his own experiences as a devotee to outdoor life and the majority of the pictures he shows are those he made himself.

Only Three Days Left To Enter Second Annual Gold Medal Ice Tourney

No Red Tape Attached, To Entering Post-Crescent Races In Jones Park On Sunday, Feb. 3

Only three days remain in which skaters can get in their entries for the second annual tournament under auspices of the Appleton Post-Crescent. Entries close on Friday, Jan. 25, and the tournament will be held in Jones park on Sunday, Feb. 3. It is believed there will be a rush of entries the last few days of this week.

There still is lots of room for skaters in all the classes. Every skater in Appleton is invited to participate. There is no entry fee and no red tape of any kind. Gold and silver medals, on display at the Post building, will be given to winners of first and second places in each of the eleven events listed in the entry blank printed on this page.

Officials will be announced after all the entries are in. Rules have been published so skaters know exactly the conditions under which the tournament will be held. Skaters are to be assigned the skaters immediately after the entries are in.

Every effort is being made to make this tournament as businesslike and successful as possible. A fairly large number of entries is assured. Interest in the tournament among the skaters, however, is not as great as it should be considering that this is the premier sporting event of the winter season in Appleton.

It was believed that the number of entries would reach 100 but the number of skaters now in the race is far less than that number.

Skaters are urged to get in their entries as soon as possible. No entries will be accepted when the lists are closed.

SCHAEFER TAKES LEAD OVER HOPPE

San Francisco Star Beats Champion, 500 To 369, In Opening Block

By Associated Press
Chicago—Jake Schaefer defeated Willie Hoppe, 500 to 369, in the first 500-point block of their 1,500 point challenge match here Monday night and his victory, billiard fans declared, seems to bear out their predictions that the San Francisco star would again lift the 162 ball line billiard crown from the head of Mr. Hoppe.

This, the third challenge match in as many seasons, is in the nature of a "rubber." Schaefer defeated Hoppe for the championship here in 1921 after Hoppe had held it continuously since 1912, but lost it again to him last year in the tournament in New York. Hoppe's average was 39.9 in 1922. The three ball earnings and two of one point each credited to the champion were the result of bad leaves and safety plays.

2,500 PIN TEAMS IN CHICAGO TOURNEY

By Associated Press
Chicago—The time for entering the twenty fourth annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress ended at midnight Monday night with a record breaking array of teams listed for competition. A. L. Langtry, Milwaukee, national secretary, estimates that there will be 2,500 teams in the competition. The 1926 record mark set at Milwaukee last year is certain to be beaten at the coming congress, he said.

The prize list offered bowlers this year will total approximately $90,000, a new high mark, the secretary announced. The tournament is to be held in Chicago beginning Feb. 23, and concluding March 26.

NATIONALS START PLAY ON APRIL 15

New York—The National league will open on April 15 this year and close on Sept. 29, according to an announcement by President John A. Heydler. The closing date is ten days earlier than in 1923 and is one of the earliest on record for a 154 game schedule.

More doubleheaders than last year probably will be necessitated, but the new dates were decided in order to prevent conflicts with the football season, to provide better weather for the world's series, and because this is a presidential campaign year.

The champion Giants will open at home against the Robins, while Boston will be at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh at Cincinnati and Chicago at St. Louis. This arrangement will give the Giants two formal openings in the metropolitan districts, for on April 23 they will oppose the Robins at the formal opening of Ebbets field for the season. This will prevent a conflict with the Yankees, who will open in the stadium on April 28.

TEN APPLETON PIN TEAMS ENTERED IN MANITOWOC TILTS

The date has tentatively been set for Feb. 22.

Last year the Appleton Elks were hosts to 220 teams here. The local lodge was represented by 60 outfits. Manitowoc is making a strong effort to exceed this entry list, and according to reports from there will be making a strong effort to exceed this entry list, and according to reports from there will be making a strong effort to exceed this entry list.

JACK DEMPSEY PLANS BARNSTORMING TOUR

Memphis, Tenn.—That Jack Dempsey is planning an "exhibition tour," similar to that made by Luis Firpo, prior to his match with the champion, is the impression given local boxing promoters by Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, in a telephone conversation from Hot Springs, Ark. Sunday night. Kearns said he will be in Memphis on Monday to confer with Billy Haack, local promoter, concerning a date for Dempsey on his "exhibition tour." Haack declared Sunday night that although this is the first intimation he has had that Dempsey plans a barn storming trip, he would be glad to arrange the date, if Kearns "doesn't demand a mortgage on the city hall."

Janesville—Battle for places waged over the Wisconsin tournament allies here Sunday and Monday was rather peaceful.

There was only one change in the leaders that amounted to more than passing interest. That was when P. Paulson, E. Mandernack, Racine, disturbed the atmosphere by hanging up a 145 count for third place in doubles.

On the whole the pin busting was just ordinary.

Tuesday and for the next few days, Janesville boosters will hold forth on the drives.

M. Emerson, Beloit, pushed himself into sixth in the individuals Monday afternoon with 609, 208-190-211. On the same shift, H. Kueck, Milwaukee, went into seventh with 607, making 236 in his last game.

Oscar N. Nelson, manager of the Janesville Chamber of Commerce and president of the Wisconsin Bowling association, maintained his average with 599 to tie E. Sladsky, Racine, for eighth Nelson started with games that looked as if he were going to give Bank Schoenig of Janesville a rug for first. He opened with 224, then made 208, but fell to 167.

There was only one change during the day in five man events. The Cunningham Bakers of Janesville tallied 2,654 and trotted into seventh position. A poor first game was all that set them back from hitting big time.

Following an 813 they split the sticks for 930 and 921.

All-event leaders were announced Monday night. Scooping of Janesville leads the nine-gamers with 1797, seven pins more than his nearest competitor, Reinke of Racine.

KAUKAUNA CUEISTS INVADE APPLETON ON F. R. V. SCHEDULE

Lietzen And Drexler Hold Second Place In Valley Loop

LEAGUE STANDINGS
W. L. Pct.
Menasha ..... 6 1 .857
Appleton ..... 3 2 .714
Neenah ..... 4 4 .500
Kaukauna ..... 2 5 .286
Little Chute ..... 1 6 .043

Appleton Tuesday evening will make a strong effort to tighten its hold on second place in the Fox River Valley pocket billiard league, when Lietzen and Drexler oppose Zwick and Salisbury of Kaukauna at the Carr and Hansen billiard parlors.

The local cueists have been hovering near the top for several weeks, but Menasha has clung to the attic post tenaciously, and none of the teams it opposes have been able to dislodge it. Kaukauna is trailing along near the bottom of the ladder and should be easy for Lietzen and Drexler, Appleton players. Menasha is due to clash with Little Chute this week, and according to predictions of local fans, will keep its lead.

Lietzen and Drexler have been playing since the open of the season here, and are in prime form for their contest Tuesday evening. They have won every game they played during the new year, and unless Kaukauna's teams shows an unexpected recovery, their chances for keeping up the good work are brilliant.

The Tuesday match will be for 100 points. It will start at 8 o'clock in the Carr and Hansen parlors, and no admission will be charged.

FIRST WARD CAGERS BEAT LINCOLN TEAM

First Ward grade school basketball team, 15 to 12, in a close and exciting game.

The teams were evenly matched, and fought to the last second of play. At the end of the first half the score was tied, 7 to 7, and for the rest of the game searashed with neither team able to get a decided advantage. In the last three minutes of play, the First Warders dropped the sphere through the ring for two field goals and a freethrow, and thereby copped the victory.

WEISMULLER AND SYBIL BAUER MAKE NEW MARKS

Fort Wayne, Ind.—Johnny Weismuller broke the 400 yard free style swim record held by Norman Ross, by 3.45 seconds, in a local tank Saturday night. Weismuller negotiated the distance here in 4:34.45.

Miss Sybil Bauer, Weismuller's team mate of the Illinois A. C. Chicago swam the 100 yard back stroke in 1:12.45 establishing a new world's record and breaking her own world's record of 1:15.

The meet was held under A. U. sanction with nine timers clocking the swimmers. The length of the local Y. M. C. A. pool, in which the records were made, is sixty feet.

Buenos Aires—Luis Firpo, offered $200,000 by Tex Rickard for a fight between him and Harry Wills in July and a proposed bout with Jack Dempsey in September, said he would not decide until after the arrival of Hugh Garland, his New York representative.

Lawrence Quint Faces Carroll And Hilltop On Weekend Schedule

Coach A. C. Denney Points Blue Cagers Toward Stiff Program; Waukesha College As Strong As Beloit

After Friday's unfortunate defeat at the hands of Ripon, Coach A. C. Denney is redoubling his efforts to offset the lack of experience in a great measure responsible for the Lawrence team's defeat. The Blue quintet faces the hardest weekend of its entire 1924 schedule this week, with a battle at Waukesha with Carroll on Friday, and another with Marquette at Milwaukee on Saturday in prospect.

Carroll finished second in the Little Five conference last year, and this season has all of the veterans of last year's team back. According to Denney's opinion, the Waukesha college is fully as strong as Beloit, while Marquette has always been considered as above the class of Little Five schools.

Coach Denney attributes Friday's defeat chiefly to the Lawrence men's lack of experience in combating the Ripon aggregation. Denney is devoting most of his time to developing different styles of play this week, in order to accustom his men to anything they may meet on their schedule.

Jennings Signs As Giant Coach; $15,000 A Year

New York—Hughy Jennings, who does a bit of neat lawyering in Scotland during the winter, drove into town from the coal country on Sunday and signed a new contract as assistant manager of the Giants. Hughy stepped into the office of the Giants and was greeted by his old pal and side kick, John J. McGraw.

"Hughy, sign your name to the 1924 register," said John.

Jennings glanced at the papers, signed with a smile, and the job was finished—just like that! It is understood that Jennings receives $15,000 a year—as much as he got for managing the Detroit Tigers in 1920, his last season with the Bengals.

This will be Jennings' fourth year with the Giants, to whom he has brought great luck since he assumed the duties so reluctantly relinquished by Mackey. Ever since Hughy joined the New Yorks in 1921 they have had a perfect score in the National league and a percentage of 666 in world series, three straight pennants and two out of three against the Yankees.

Hughy stands pretty high, too, in the unofficial averages for coaches. He drove in more runs than any other member of the club last season.

OSHKOSH QUINTET INVADES KIMBERLY WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Millmen Arrange Heavy Schedule; Lena Legionnaires Listed On Menu

Kimberly-Clark Mill team, encouraged by recent victories over the Hortonville Merchants and Kaukauna Mulford's, two of the strongest semi-pro basketball fives in this neck of the woods, are branching out. The Millmen have scheduled contests with the Lena Legion team, the Kohler Co. team of Sheboygan, and several other quintets of state-wide repute.

On Wednesday evening the Kimberly five will clash with the Reed School Social Center team of Oshkosh in the new Kimberly clubhouse. The Oshkosh team is going strong, but will have to do its best to keep up with the fast Millmen. Louis Loese is coach of the Kimberly Clark aggregation on which he plays as forward.

The team is composed of men who have been playing together for years, which accounts for their excellent teamwork.

The Kimberly clubhouse furnishes an ideal floor for games, 40 feet by 16 feet, with ample room along the side lines for spectators. Hot and cold showers are part of the equipment and a number of dressing rooms will accommodate both the home team and visitors.

The Lena Legion team will invade Kimberly, Jan. 30. This team is considered one of the strongest in the state. In its lineup are the two Netzberg boys and the Tetek brothers. The team has never played in this section of the state and the Kimberly game will give fans here a chance to see it in action.

The Kimberly Clark team of Niagara will also play at Kimberly in February.

APPLETON VOLLEY BALL TEAM WILL PLAY AT NEENAH

Noon Class Of Business Men At Y. M. C. A. Accept Challenge Of Mens Club

Six Appleton businessmen in the noon gymnasium class conducted by A. P. Jensen, physical director at the Y. M. C. A. on Jan. 22, will invade Neenah Methodist church.

The Neenah Methodists recently sent their defi to Jensen, who notified his classes and called for volunteers. The noon class of businessmen which has been playing the game daily since the classes were started several months ago, took up the challenge. Not much is known of the ability of the Neenah men, but the local players are going strong, and are fit to give any amateur team a hard rub.

The Appleton lineup will include Fred Schintz, Walter Zwicker, Harvey Schintz, George Nixon, Bliss Carnes and Leslie Buchanan. According to Jensen, every man on the team is fast and in good condition.

Jack Zwick Fights Here Next Month

Elmer Johnston, Appleton fight promoter, announces Patsy Callahan has called off a battle scheduled for Jack Zwick, Kaukauna sheik, at Racine on Feb. 4, in order to permit the "Electric city" slugger to take part in a card contemplated for Appleton on Feb. 7.

The State Boxing commission has a rule forbidding fighters to battle until six days after their last cards, and for this reason Callahan preferred to call off the Racine fight rather than pass up a chance to show Jack here.

Jim Austin, Muskegon flash, is the tentative choice for the Feb. 7, card here. Austin has been cleaning up everything in his class in the peninsula. He is a fighter on Zwick's style, who is willing to take two to land one, if necessary. If Jim Austin signs for the battle as Johnston expects him to do, Appleton fans will have a chance to see a real fight.

Canton, O.—Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, outpointed Fred Archer, English welterweight champion, in ten rounds.
